

SCREEN FREE FRIDAY!

Everyone has worked so hard this half term that we all deserve a day away from daily lessons. So, today we would like you to do things that you love – even if that's having a duvet day and watching movies all day!

Here are some ideas of what I would love to do if I was given a day to do what I wanted:

Don't turn my laptop on;

Read all day long;

Watch my favourite movie, under a blanket and eat snacks;

Wrap up warmly and go for a long walk, with hot chocolate in my Chilly' bottle;

Listen to music, do crosswords and sudokus;

Play Monopoly on Zoom with my sons;

Order a takeaway for tea – Chinese New Year!

Have a long soak in the bath with my book;

Get my pyjamas on and have an early night.

If you still need some ideas of what you can do, I have posted some on Seesaw for you.

Please don't upload any work on Friday – I'm having a screen free day!
